Biography

Fighting the Black Death (1176 AR)

Cimbris in his disguise of the travelling doctor Aesculapius appeared in The World during the outbreak in Vizima in 1176 AR during the height of strength of the Black Death. Using his immunity to the disease he went where he was needed fighting back the tide of the disease, offering healing and relief where he could. He was present in the hospital in which Princess Adela died helping priests tend to the sick, he was sad to see her die especially so young at the age of seventeen as the two had worked together to help the suffering patients. He carried her, the priests and those that had died from the plague bodies one by one from the hospital and burned them together to prevent their corpses from becoming vectors of new infections.
